On the choice of words in this puzzle

In the Bible, the book of Genesis tells us that Sarah and her husband Abraham came from Ur in Chaldea. Her name was originally Sarai, but later, the Lord changed it to Sarah. In the Greek text of the New Testament it was written as Sarra. Her husband's name was originally Abram, but the Lord changed it to Abraham.

Sarah and Abraham and his father Terah left Ur and moved to a place called Haran. They were accompanied by Lot, Abraham's nephew. Terah died in Haran. The Lord told Abraham to move to the land of Canaan, and he and Sarah did that, together with Lot.

In Canaan, they came to Shechem, close to the plain of Moreh. Later, they moved to a place close to Bethel and Ai. But, there was a famine in the land, and Sarah and Abraham went to Egypt. Sarah was beautiful (fair to look upon, as some translations have it), and Abraham was afraid that the Egyptians would kill him, in order to get his wife. So, he told her to say that she was his sister. The princes of the Pharaoh saw her, and she was taken to the Pharaoh. But, the Lord sent severe plagues on the Pharaoh and his house. The Pharaoh came to realise what the cause was, and called Abraham and then sent him and Sarah away. They returned to the place where they had lived in the land of Canaan, between Bethel and Ai.

The Scriptures tell us that first, Sarah was barren and did not get children. So, she gave her Egyptian handmaid Hagar to Abraham, so that she would bear a child for her. (Hagar was a slave – “bondwoman” as some translations have it, whereas Sarah was a freewoman. The apostle Paul used this fact in an analogy, in his letter to the saints in Galatia.) Hagar gave birth to a son, who came to be called Ishmael.

When Abraham was 99 years old, the Lord appeared to him and made a covenant with him, and promised that Sarah would bear him a son. Abraham laughed at the idea of him and Sarah getting a son (because they were so old), but the Lord told him that so would happen, and that because Abraham had laughed, the son was to be called Yitschaq (often interpreted as “laughter” or “he laughs”). Yitschaq has then been anglicised into Isaac. It was on that occasion, that the Lord changed Sarai's name to Sarah, and Abram's name to Abraham. At that time, they lived in Shechem.

Then the Lord met Sarah and Abraham on the plain of Mamre (in Hebron) where they had their tent. He repeated the promise regarding a son. Sarah heard that and laughed (inwardly), because she was old. But, the Lord assured them that she would have a son. After that, Sarah and Abraham lived between Kadesh and Shur, and in Gerar. Once again, Abraham lied and said that Sarah was his sister. So, Abimelech the king of Gerar sent and took Sarah. But, God told Abimelech through a dream that he must return Sarah to Abraham.

Around a year after the Lord had met Sarah and Abraham, she conceived and bore a child, a son, and called him Yitschaq (“Isaac”). At that time, Sarah was ninety years old. Sarah died in Kirjatharba, and Abraham buried her in the cave of the field of Machpelah.

In the New Testament, Sarah is commended for her faith, and it is mentioned that she obeyed her husband. (“Obeyed” – Greek hupakouô, “to listen to”, ”to submit to”, 1 Peter 3:6.)
